IF WE may trust Professor Worcester, who has recently been appointed on the Philippine commission because of the knowledge shown in his excellent work, The Philippine Islands and Their People, the students of folk-lore and popular superstitions have a rich field awaiting them in our new territory. The clouds are supposed to be the "breath of the wind;" the tides are caused by a gigantic crab that crawls in and out of a cave. The monkey resembles a man because he once was one. Being very lazy when he ought to have been planting rice, a companion threw a stick at him, which stuck into him, forming his tail.

AMERICAN ANTHROPOLOGIST—NEW SERIES

At the winter meeting of Section H of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, held at Ithaca in December, 1897, a committee was appointed to draft a plan for founding a journal designed to promote the interests of anthropology in America. The committee held several meetings, conferred with publishers, and reported to Section H at the Boston meeting in August, 1898. The Anthropological Society of Washington regarded the project with favor from its inception, and appointed a committee, consisting of its President and the chairman of the Editorial Board of the American Anthropologist to coöperate with the committee of the American Association in the founding of a journal that would more fully represent the field of anthropology in America than any magazine which the Anthropological Society, with the comparatively limited funds at its disposal, could alone guarantee.

Toward the close of the year a prospectus was prepared and distributed by the founding committee, and so favorable was the response that steps were at once taken to carry the project into effect. As the last number of the monthly American Anthropologist goes to press, the January number of the AMERICAN ANTHROPOLOGIST—NEW SERIES is well advanced toward publication.

The new journal will be issued in quarterly numbers of 200 large octavo pages, and will be amply illustrated. The subscription price is $4.00 per annual volume. The contents of the magazine will embrace (1) high-grade papers pertaining to all parts of the domain of anthropology; (2) briefer contributions, including discussion and correspondence; (3) reviews of anthropologic literature; (4) a current bibliography of anthropology, compiled by Dr Fletcher; (5) anthropologic notes and news.

The publication of the journal has been undertaken by Messrs George P. Putnam's Sons, whose imprint is ample guaranty of mechanical excellence.

The journal will be conducted by the following editorial board : Dr Frank Baker, of the Smithsonian Institution ; Dr Franz Boas, of the American Museum of Natural History ; Dr Daniel G. Brinton, of the University of Pennsylvania ; Dr George M. Dawson, Director of the Geological Survey of Canada ; Dr George A. Dorsey, of the Field Columbian Museum ; Prof. W. H. Holmes, of the U. S. National Museum ; Major J. W. Powell, of the Bureau of American Ethnology ; Prof. F. W. Putnam, of the Peabody Museum ; Mr F. W. Hodge, Secretary and Managing Editor.

It has been the aim of the Anthropological Society of Washington to render the new journal all the aid that lies in its power ; and its officers and members, in expressing their appreciation of the support given its own journal during the eleven years of publication, urge that its subscribers extend their patronage to the new and enlarged series.

Subscriptions may be sent to the publishers, Messrs George P. Putnam's Sons, 27 and 29 West Twenty-third street, New York city.
